Twisted Nature pushes viewers to perceive nature through new eyes. This exhibition is a partnered show by Mahala Hill and Anna O'Neale who are contemporary ceramic artists. Both artists' works are strikingly different though have common linking concepts of plague, death, and oddities.

Through multi-media sculpture, predominantly mixtures of ceramics and industrial materials, the sculptural works not only show animals and plants in a different light but question their place in our human-centred world.

Materials and techniques not traditionally associated with ceramics are utilised to create an engaging spectacle of an exhibition that is unnerving yet intriguingly beautiful.
